

U. S. Given Virtual Veto Against China Mainland Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is supplying substantial military equipment to Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa but has reserved for itself a powerful voice over any major operation against Red China.

Officials who reported this said the American government is especially concerned about the possibility of attacks on the Communist mainland which could be expected to provoke Red retaliation.

Today's revelation of policy recalled last week's political exchange between House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass) and Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.).

Douglas had pooh-poohed Martin's claim that the Republicans brought about the true in Korea. Martin said that the new GOP Far East policy was a "refreshing roughness."

He said the first major move was that made by President Eisenhower in ordering the U. S. 7th Fleet to "quit shielding Red China against attacks by the Nationalist forces on Formosa."

Douglas, in rebuttal, said Martin's statements were "far fetched" and added:

"President Truman could have had a peace in Korea last summer if he had been willing to take the same prisoner of war terms which we now have accepted."

As for the 7th Fleet order, Douglas said it was no change in policy—that Truman had been permitting the Chinese Nationalists to make hit-and-run raids on the coast without formal sanction.

The senator emphasized that, despite Eisenhower's order, "there has been no invasion of mainland" by Nationalist forces.

Information available here today indicated that an agreement with the government of Chiang Kai-shek to assure the United States a voice in major strategic decisions did not affect the harassing operations which Chiang's forces have long been carrying on against Communists units on islands near the mainland.

Under some conditions, it was clear that the U. S. right to share in decisions on operations could give this country a virtual veto. Such a veto presumably would be exercises on projected Nationalist military operations which would involve American forces in a manner or to a degree inconsistent with American interests.

The arrangement apparently grows out of Eisenhower's order to the 7th Fleet. Subsequently, officials said last night, the United States stepped up its program of military aid to the Nationalists on Formosa.

From the point of view of putting the Communists on the defensive and possibly causing them to tie up forces in the area opposite Formosa, this fitted in with American plans.

However, the President had left the 7th Fleet with the responsibility of protecting Formosa against assault by the Communists. This meant that as the Nationalist forces became stronger, they might undertake a big operation which would involve the U. S. fleet in military action with Chinese Communist forces. That, in turn, could have an incalculable effect on the whole international situation.

As a result of such considerations, informants said, the United States got an agreement with the Nationalist government that it would be informed and consulted well in advance of any such operation and that it would have a voice in the decision.

Announcement was made today that Forrest P. Smith, a Fayette County man, has been appointed Federal Housing Administration Director for the Columbus area which covers 41 counties in Central Ohio.

Lodge declared the resolution

Vishinsky put before the U. N. Assembly's Political Committee yesterday was designed to let the Communists dominate the peace parley. Other delegates reserved comment on the Russian proposal.

Vishinsky was expected to speak before the committee late today. The Soviet program called for the peace conference to be made up of 11 countries, including five "neutrals." This ran directly counter to American desires to limit the talks to nations whose troops fought in Korea.

Russia proposed these conference members:

1. Three U. N. members whose troops fought on the U. N. side—the United States, Britain and France and South Korea;

2. The two Communist belligerents—North Korea and Communist China;

3. Two Communist neutrals, the Soviet Union and Poland;

4. Three other neutrals, India, Sweden and Burma. All three have recognized Red China.

The remainder of Vishinsky's proposal provided that "the decisions of the conference will be

Fair Directors Are Guests Of Lions Club Here

Excellent Program
Features Annual Event Of Club

The annual Lions Club dinner meeting, at which the members and directors of the Fayette County Agricultural Society are entertained, was held at the Country Club Tuesday evening.

Eighty-three club members were present for the meeting. Fair board members were introduced by Harry Silcott, treasurer of the Agricultural Society. As each member was introduced he made a short response about his duties. Silcott also gave a short talk during the introductions.

Fair board members at the meeting were Frank Ellis, Ralph Nisley, Walter Dreisbach, H. H. Denton, John Sagar, Preston Dray, George A. Steen and Mac Dews. Sr. Those absent were Ray Brantburg, Walter Sollars, Sam Marting and McKinley Kirk.

ALSO GUESTS at the meeting were Dennis Bell, the new head football coach of Washington C. H. High School, and his brother, Allen Bell of Fort Wayne, Ind. They were with E. Wayne Titus, WHS principal.

Coach Bell made a very impressive talk to the assembled group. He told how well he was received when he came to Washington C. H. and that he thought this was a very progressive community. He also mentioned the 1953 WHS football team, but said that he couldn't make any predictions on what to expect this season. He had not seen the boys playing yet.

Another guest at the meeting was Bob Thompson. He was with his father, Bill Thompson.

For the program, some top-notch musical entertainment was given. Every second meeting of the Lions Club has a musical feature on the program. Paul Van Voorhis, chairman of the music committee, presented James Michael on this occasion. Michael sang three songs, "When I Have Sung My Song," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Friend of Mine." He was enthusiastically applauded by the club members and guests. Miss Jo Davis was accompanist at the piano.

EMERSON MARTING presented Miss Betty Jane Russello, a tap dancer and baton twirler from Eaton. Miss Russello is the state junior baton champion. She won her trophy last week and has never been defeated.

Miss Russello first presented a tap dance and then went into her baton act, twirling two batons at the same time. She was given quite an ovation for her championship show. Miss Russello is only thirteen years old.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the awarding of prizes to Lion members who sold the most race score cards at the Fair this summer. The winners were presented regular Fair ribbons.

Awarded the grand champion (as salesmen) was Lawrence Grimes. First prize went to Harry Thrall; second prize, Emerson Marting; third place, Bill Lovell and fourth, Bill Thompson.

ALSO DURING the meeting, Joe White, who was general chairman of the race program sale at the Fair, made a report and turned over to the secretary of the Fair board, Frank Ellis, a check for $622.25. The money was given to the Agricultural Society for its fall interest in the sale of programs.

After the regular program of the club, the directors held a meeting at which they approved a safety campaign. This was set up by a safety committee made of L. F. Everhart, chairman, Bob Wise and Bud Meriwether.

Beginning the week of August 31, the Lions club will launch a safety program for all bicycle owners who will be given Scotch tape, which is illuminated at night, to put on their bicycles to help prevent accidents. Details of the campaign will be announced later, it was stated.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — This country's free food for the East Germans—flour, lard, beans and dried milk—continues to sting the Russians like a mustard plaster.

The 15 million dollars which President Eisenhower ordered spent for it no doubt pays for itself in goodwill for this country among both the free West Germans and the East Germans living under Communist control.

As an American act of friendship, it may be effective in persuading the East Germans to re-elect this fall Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who has been working on the side of the United States.

And the fact that the East Germans have streamed into West Berlin for the food, at risk to themselves, is notice to everyone that there is a hunger problem in Soviet territory and that the Russians can't lick it.

After the East German workers' riots in June, Eisenhower put the Russians on the spot by asking them to let 15 million dollars' worth of American food go through the curtain to the East Germans.

If Moscow accepted, it would be public acknowledgement of the hunger problem. Refusal would make Communist treatment of the East Germans, which brought on the riots, look even worse. Moscow refused.

Eisenhower decided to send the food into West Germany where Adenauer's government could handle distribution of it for the East Germans, or those who dared to come for it. Many dared.

Over 2,600,000 seven-pound packages have been handed out and the program is far from finished. Distribution began in late July.

It's been estimated the 15 millions will buy 50,000 tons of food. Eisenhower ordered Harold Stassen's Mutual Security Agency, since renamed the Foreign Operations Administration (FOA), to get the food.

The money comes out of a special FOA fund. FOA told the agriculture Department to act as its agent in buying the food. Then FOA set up a schedule to ship about 5,000 tons a week.

The first shipment of 4,500 tons began leaving this country in American freighters July 17. It consisted of 2,000 tons of flour, 1,000 tons of lard, 500 tons of dried milk, and 1,000 tons of beans.

Further shipments will contain the same items, with the possible addition of canned meat. The flour, lard and dried milk are being bought from commercial firms. The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) supplies the beans.

As part of its price-support program, the government will step in and buy a farmer's beans if open market prices fall below a certain figure.

The CCC does this buying. As a result, it has warehouses in Michigan loaded with beans. The government draws on these warehouses for the beans shipped to Germany.

Once the food gets to West Germany, Adenauer's government hauls it to West Berlin. As an example of what the food means: 2,000 tons of lard is two million one-pound containers.

The food packages are distributed from relief stations set up in public schools in West Berlin. There's been a recent lag in the program because the school season starts soon.

New centers will be set up. The program is expected to get going at full speed again by Aug. 27. An official of the State Department describes the rest of the story:

East Berliners can get into West Berlin by bus, elevated trains, sub-

More Fluoride Is In Water At Jeffersonville

Fluoride Content in This City Is Light, An Analysis Shows

Jeffersonville has an extraordinary municipal water supply, as indicated by a statement made by Dr. Gordon E. Savage, for several years health commissioner of Fayette and Green Counties.

The water contains two parts of fluoride per million parts of water.

Jamestown's water supply has one part of fluoride per million, it was also stated by Savage.

In a recent statement Dr. Savage said:

"The health department has frequently commented on the absence of decayed teeth in pre-school and first grade children in those two places, while some other places, such as Xenia, Cedarville and Yellow Springs have only 1-10 of fluoride per million parts of water, and there is more teeth decay."

It is pointed out that 97 water supplies in the state have a fluoride content of 9-10 of one part to one million parts of water, or a natural fluoride content as great as advocated in fluoridation of municipal water.

Dr. Savage also said that there is some evidence to indicate that the death rate may be lower in areas with high natural fluoride content in the water.

In Washington C. H. the natural fluoride content in the water is extremely light, and Supt. O. D. Farquhar stated that he did not recall just what the small percent is.

So far no demand has been made here for fluorination of the water, which is being done in some places to counteract tooth decay, etc.

According to the American Waterworks Association, fluoridation is not an involved procedure, but is similar to other measures used in making drinking water healthy. It does not affect the taste, odor or color of the water. Fluoridation does not add hardness to the water or affect its use for any domestic or industrial purpose.

An extremely small amount of fluoride is added to the water, only one part of the element, fluoride, to a million parts of water.

Dr. Savage said if you were to attempt to measure the amount of fluoride in a glass of fluoridated water, you would find it equivalent to about 1-250 of a drop. The tiny amounts necessary to prevent dental decay are detectable only by delicate chemical tests, he said.

Years of study and research are required before a health measure such as fluoridation can be recom-

Poet's Corner

REMEMBER AND FORGET
Remember things that give you pleasure;
Forget the things that give you pain;
Your happiness then will be lasting;
Pain can add nothing but a strain;
Sad, unkind thoughts are like a cancer—
They eat into the heart and mind;
They blot out things that might give pleasure
And happiness you can not find,
Think not of self but of some other;
A good deed will bring rich reward;
Sad hearts by good deeds are made lighter;
Thoughts, actions we must always guard.

mended with safety, The American Dental Association reports. The dental benefits of fluoridation have been thoroughly explored, it continues. In addition, studies have been conducted among people who have lived continuously in areas where the drinking water naturally contains high concentrations of fluorides. The research work has been painstaking, it adds, yet no scientist has been able to find any harmful effects from fluorides in the amount recommended for protection against dental decay.

Research studies have led to the endorsement of fluoridation by the American Dental Association, official spokesman for more than 70,000 dentists. The American Medical Association also has adopted a statement on the desirability and safety of fluoridation.

Other organizations that have adopted favorable policies on fluoridation include the American Public Health Association, American Waterworks Association, National Research Council, State and Territorial Health Officers Association, U. S. Public Health Service, American Dentists, State and Territorial Dental Health Directors plus hundreds of state and community health and civic groups.

During July 59 New Cars Were Sold

JACKSON, Aug. 18.—Mayor Holand S. Arthur has devised a plan to crack down on drunken drivers. Maximum fines of $250 are being planned for first offenses, with the defendants to have the choice of having $200 of the fine suspended upon voluntary surrender of driving licenses for 30 days.

The mayor lacks jurisdiction to revoke license.

Repeat offenders will be turned over to common pleas court, which has authority to revoke licenses in addition to ordering fines and imprisonment.

A Reminder That Ohio Game Still Abounds

While no one living in Fayette County today can personally know anything much about the pioneer days in this locality, there are some who tell what their grandfathers, or great-grandfathers, have related to them of the early days of this region and the rest of Ohio.

Long, long ago, this and other localities of Ohio was known as the "Big Tree Country" when great forests blanketed much of the land.

Narrow trails used by Indians and animals, and a few navigable rivers and lakes, were the only ways of reaching and communicating in the uncharted vastness that is now this state of ours.

Today none of us can properly visualize great game-filled woods where now are rich farms such as Fayette County possesses, or prosperous cities.

A reminder of all this comes through the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, which relates that Ohio was fifth on the list of states in which fur-bearing animals were trapped in large numbers during the 1950-51 season.

The report emphasizes that only pelts handled by dealers were counted; no tabulation was taken of the muskrats, raccoons, foxes, badgers and other coveted fur-bearers whose skins were treated by individual hunters.

Still, the Wildlife Service says 683,492 furry animals were hunted down for commercial purposes in Ohio's remaining forests and farm woodlots. Only Louisiana, Minnesota, Michigan and Illinois contributed more to the national fur market.

Our own state, it seems, though a major agricultural and industrial state, retains part of its frontier heritage. Though the "Big Trees" are gone and the tracks of ox-wagons lie beneath paved highways, the hunter spirit still lives and game still abounds.

Truce Future?

The exchange of prisoners under the truce arrangement in Korea is bringing to light the barbaric treatment most American and other United Nations' prisoners of war received at the hands of their Red captors. According to last reports, some 6,000 American prisoners of war are still unaccounted for, and their fate is unknown. General Mark Clark, Supreme Commander in the Far East, in Washington, expressed pessimism over the prospects for a successful settlement of the Korean problem, although United States diplomatic officials are more optimistic. All Americans should remember it is a truce, not peace, which now prevails in Korea.

Building Slow Down

The home building boom has slowed down so much in recent months that U. S. Housing Administrator Cole is being heavily pressured to lower down payment requirements on houses costing $12,000 or less, in order to stimulate demand.

Pett Gives Own 'Kinsey Report'

NEW YORK (P)—The Kinsey report on women will be out Thursday. Why wait?

The Pett report is out today.

It is based on interviews with women, even arguments—on 35 years of non-objective observation, on rumor and gossip, on prejudice and bias regardless of race, creed or color, and on long conversations with many men.

The Pett report shows that: 65.8 per cent of all married American women object to being kissed behind the ear while baking a cake.

53.1 per cent of all married women know as many curse words as their husbands but only .009 per cent admit it.

During courtship, 33.8 per cent of women of all ages cheat by keeping their eyes open.

22.3 per cent of married women throw dishes at their husbands and 22.2 per cent miss.

Essentials Of Human Rights

For more than a century, two forces manifested themselves not only in the western world but in all countries where men reared and deal in ideas. One force has been the tremendous accretion of scientific knowledge; the other has been the effort of a few thinkers to relate the new knowledge and its explosive trends in thought to the art of living.

While science mounts and has now reached beyond the alchemist's mad dreams, our thoughts on life grow more confused, because somehow along the road to knowledge and reason, man has lost his bearings.

This era might be said to have been ushered into history by the French Revolution. Certainly by the 1848 revolutions in western Europe, its most cogent design, socialism in its multiple forms, had manifested itself. Also the opposition to the socialization of man, to his reduction to a creature of the state, had appeared.

Frederic Bastiat, writing in 1850, in his pamphlet, "The Law," said:

"...the law...is the substitution of a common force for individual forces. And this common force is to do only what the individual forces have a natural and lawful right to do: To protect persons, liberties, and properties; to maintain the right of each, and to cause justice to reign over us all."

This is an individualist's reaction to the revolutionary socialism of his period which sought, however worded, to make the state the master of an inert mass. Individualism can exist only to the extent to which a person may own and use private property. As that right decreases, his dependence upon the state increases. This has been manifested clearly in the United States and other countries where the state reduces the capacity of the individual to accumulate private capital and therefore to own property by taxation.

Returning to the French philosopher, Bastiat, we find him saying:

"No society can exist unless the laws are respected to a certain degree. The safest way to make laws respected is to make them respectable..."

As respect for the law decreases, revolution is born. Thus, during this century, from 1848 to this day, the world has been full of revolution and revolutionary ideas. These disturbances are not only due to dissatisfaction with government but they arise from an individual feeling of frustration, from a hunger for stability, from a desire to reject immortality. The effects may be the reverse of the desired end, but the most potent stimulant for revolutionary thinking, if not action, is the absence of moral stability.

In my conversations during the past few years with several hundred American ex-Communists and fellow travelers, I find that while many are antagonistic to the Russian pattern of life, for them the American pattern

Bastiat places the highest of human rights in this order:

"Life, faculties, production—in other words, individuality, liberty, property—this is man. And in spite of the cunning of artful political leaders, these three gifts from God precede all human legislation, and are superior to it."

When the right to private ownership of property disappears altogether, as in the Soviet Empire, slavery returns as a normal social institution. If some of those who are today called missing, in the Korean war, ever return to us, they will have a tale to tell of their own experiences as slaves.

Malenkov's recent address to the Russian Supreme Soviet only establishes the nature of this dependence. In effect, he said that Stalin faked Russian industrial and agricultural statistics; that the state failed to provide adequate quantities of consumer's goods for the people and that housing and other facilities were kept short in order that the state could tool up for the development of heavy industries mostly designed for war production.

Perhaps that is true in other countries, but the essence of the argument is that the state has reduced the rights of the individual and has opted for itself the authority to decide what one should wear, how much he should eat, where he should house his family.

Returning to the French philosopher, Bastiat, we find him saying:

"No society can exist unless the laws are respected to a certain degree. The safest way to make laws respected is to make them respectable..."

Don't Neglect A Cold; It Could Be Serious

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Though it may seem like a slight cold, it is a good idea to consult a physician regarding upper respiratory symptoms, especially if a fever is present. This can be the signs of one of the most frequent cancers that can occur in man, cancer of the lung.

One reason for the small number of cures of this disease is the fact that many of the cases are not diagnosed until it is too late.

A recent study showed that an average of ten and a half months elapsed between the time the patient had the first symptoms of cancer of the lung until corrective treatment was undertaken. It was found that many patients had persistent cough, loss of weight, and even hemorrhaging from the lung for many months before consulting physicians.

Most of these complaints were attributed by the patients themselves to bronchitis, smoking, or other such causes. It is an important fact that even minor respiratory symptoms, particularly in men in their fifties and sixties, may be the onset of cancer of the lung.

In persons developing sudden symptoms of coughing or spitting up of blood, a physician should be consulted immediately and X-rays taken of the chest. This is a symptom that should lead the physician to suspect the presence of a tumor.

Sometimes there will not be any lung symptoms present, but complains of tiredness, fatigue, vague pains and gradual loss of weight. A chest X-ray often reveals a tumor or cancer in these cases. It is believed that if routine chest X-rays are done as a preventive measure, many cases of cancer of the lung could be detected early enough to do some good.

If a case of cancer of the lung is diagnosed early, surgery can be performed that, in many cases, can save a life.

MERCANTILE — (MUR-kahn-tile) — adjective: of or pertaining to merchants or trade; of or pertinent to the mercantile system. Synonym: Commercial. Origin: French from Italian—Mercantile, from Latin—Mercans, present participle of Mercari, to traffic.

Adams also declared that:

1. He believes Eisenhower can avoid calling a special session of Congress to consider increasing the $275 billion national debt ceiling, but it is going to be close.

2. His (Adams') "purely wild guess" is that up to $10 billion can be parceled from the $78.6 billion budget which former President Truman proposed for the fiscal year which started July 1. The administration says a $13 billion reduction already has been made.

Adams talked of further savings through "internal reductions" in "current departmental expenses," but he did not elaborate.

3. Eisenhower is bearing up "amazingly well"—both temperature and physically—under the heavy burdens of the presidency.

Chinese Military Power Eyed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—As a new staff of military experts assume responsibility for national defense at the Pentagon, they are confronted with the emergence of Communist China as a first-class fighting power, ranking only behind Russia and the United States. Not since the fall of Spain has there been such a peacetime upset of the world's military balance, and it is the most significant lesson of the Korean War.

The Chinese infantrymen, once the most despised soldiers in history, can hold their own with the West's best, including U. S. Marines. Their morale, tinged with Oriental fatalism, is excellent. They are "inflamed" with new, nationalistic spirit. Peasants have demonstrated that they can handle such complicated weapons as jets, tanks, mortars, quick-firing artillery. Their manpower is vast.

Radford has, however, won key commitments for American expansion and a limited aggression that will fall just short of war in the Far East. Pending Mao's choice as between West and East, we will encircle him from Korea to Indo-China as we have tried to "contain" Russia from the British Channel to the Dardanelles.

Case-Sowder Open Church Wedding Is Solemnized In Sabina Church of Christ

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sowder

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sowder (Shirley Jean Case) are shown cutting their wedding cake at the reception which followed their wedding at Sabina Church of Christ Sunday at 3:30 P. M. Rev. E. Franklin Gaike, pastor, officiated at the open church ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley T. Case and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Sowder of near Sabina, are the parents of the couple.

Preceding the service, Mrs. Wayne E. Stauffer and Miss Evelyn Ellis presented a half-hour of wedding music. Mrs. Stauffer, organist, played "You, You, You," "Moonlight and Roses," "Make Believe" from "Showboat," "I Love You Truly," "At Dawning," Rubenstein's "Romance" and "Oh Promise Me," and "The Bride's Chorus" from "Lohengrin" and the recessional from "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn.

Mrs. Stauffer also was soloist and was accompanied in the following selections by Miss Ellis: "Bless This House," "Through The Years" and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

White candles in seven-branched candelabra shed a soft light over the open Bible on the altar before which the vows of the double ring ceremony were exchanged.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white taffeta, with a very full skirt of unpressed pleats. The bodice was sleeveless and the only trimming was a delicate and beautiful, deep bertha of handmade lace, worn by her great-grandmother at a wedding more than 60 years ago. Her white net veil was double tiered and hip-length and fell from a small crown of orange blossoms.

Motion For Rehearing In Fairground Case Denied

Injured Boy Now Back Home

Charles Cox Grateful For Friends' Attention

Charles Ervin Cox, 15, is now back home from Children's Hospital, Columbus, where he has been since June 22 as a result of injuries received when he dove from the bank into shallow water of Sugar Creek at Jasper Mills.

Young Cox has been an excellent swimmer. He and other boys had used the pool often, but the dry weather had caused the water in it to become much less deep than the boys realized.

Charles received very bad neck injuries. Two vertebrae were jammed in the back of his neck and were pinching his spinal cord. He was also badly bruised on the left side of his body.

However, Charles is not running around like other boys; he is still confined to his home. While he is able to walk some, he also uses a wheelchair most of the time. He has a cast on the back of his neck which extends above his head and below his back.

The youngster, who will be a sophomore at Washington C. H. High School this fall, makes his home with his grandmother, Mrs. Homer Kimmey on North Ninth Street. His mother is Mrs. James Ellars of Fifth Street, and his father is James Cox of New Jersey.

Charles says he is feeling "pretty good" but that he would like to get out and see his friends. However, he doesn't need to get out to see his friends, they all come to see him.

Charles said he hardly knows how to express appreciation to all the persons who sent cards to him while he was in the hospital. "I just don't know how to thank them all," he told his grandmother.

Cox will have to be taken back to the hospital several times for check-ups. He was brought home in the Gerstner ambulance.

When he was injured, Charles was swimming with four other friends, Eddie Robbinett, Lynn Stone, Curly Smith and Sammy Rodgers.

Mexican Worried Only About Dog

MONROVIA, Calif. — He wasn't too worried about being arrested as an illegal entrant from Mexico, but Ramon Gonzales, 13, was concerned about his dog Boots.

"Senor, I love my dog. My dog loves me," he told an officer in Spanish. "We only have each other. You won't kill Boots, senior?"

The boy was assured that Boots will be cared for and returned to Mexico with him.

Ramon told officers he and two companions, aged 9 and 11, left Mexico City three months ago. He had only four pennies in his pocket when police picked him up.

Union Leaders Ignore French Chief's Threat

PARIS (AP) — Defiant union leaders today ignored Premier Joseph Laniel's threat of tougher action to end France's crippling strikes and continued their nationwide walkout.

As tension mounted, the government moved about 500 paratroopers into Paris to cope with possible violence.

In a surprise broadcast to the nation last night, Laniel made an impassioned plea to the workers to go back to their jobs. A critical paralysis of nationally operated industries and public services went into its second week.

The premier told union leaders he would negotiate with them no more unless there was a return to work today, and implied tougher action—possibly use of the Army—to break the strikes.

The threat brought quick defiance from some union organizations, and there was no move to return to work.

Authoritative sources, meanwhile, said France's National Assembly almost certainly will be called back from its summer holiday for emergency sessions to deal with the strike and other grave problems facing the country.

Pennsy Milk Law Claimed Illegal

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—An Ohio dairy store operator who opened a new store in Meadville is challenging Pennsylvania's milk laws.

Temple McAllister of Warren, Ohio, owner of a chain of 31 dairy stores in Ohio, opened the new store last Saturday and has been selling milk for 17 cents a quart, seven cents below the minimum retail price set by the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission. McAllister says the law is unconstitutional.

The Washington C. H. Cardinals and the Don Wood outfit are one game ahead in the race to determine who will be the county's host team for the men's regional softball tourney to be held here at Wilson Field on Sept. 4, 5, 6 and 7.

In the doubleheader played at Wilson Field Tuesday night, the Cardinals topped the NCR, 7 to 4, and the Don Wood team defeated the Pennington Bakers, 13 to 4.

The county tourney is single elimination. Tuesday night's games were the first ones played in the tournament.

The Cardinals collected a total of 14 hits turning seven of them into runs. Henry paced the Cardinals at the plate banging out four for four, all singles.

NCR was only allowed six hits

Spartan '11' So Strong It Has Troubles

by the winning pitcher, Gardner Cornell picked up two of the NCR safeties.

In the second game, errors proved the downfall of the Bakers. The Pennington team outdid the Woodmen, 9 to 8, but couldn't bunch them together enough to score the necessary runs.

Wood had its big inning in the second when five runs were pushed across home plate. Drake was given credit for the win and Bandy was charged with the defeat.

Two more games will be played in the county tourney tonight (Wednesday). At 7 P.M., the Rocking Chair Inn will take on the American Legion and at 8 P.M., D&P will play Armbrust.

"We haven't decided yet what we'll do," said line coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty.

"We may find it's better to go ahead and use the best possible offensive team and take a chance when we lose the ball and go on defense. Or we may try to pick out our best 11 players who can go both ways and use them and then pick out our second best 11 for relief and so forth.

Rotarians Hear Fine Talk From Young Flyer

Air Force Officer Of Patterson Field Is Visitor Here

Many Rotarians expressed their opinion that they had heard the best talk given before the club here in years, Tuesday at the luncheon at the Country Club.

The speaker was Lieut. Wilford Riaz, a young U. S. Air Force officer, of Miami, Florida, now stationed at Patterson Field Dayton, with 97th Interceptor Squadron. He was assisted in the demonstration of some of the equipment in use by Lieut. Neil Farrel, who accompanied him here from Patterson Field.

Although most of Riaz's talk was somewhat technical, it proved to be of unusual interest when highlighted by his explanation of the near-miracles of science in the aeronautical field. His rapid-fire comments also were interspersed with touches showing a fine sense of humor. Riaz is the possessor of many medals and has flown many fighting missions. He gave evidence of knowing his duty very thoroughly.

HE TOLD OF his work with the Air Defense Command and described the F6D Jet as the fastest and best plane in all types of weather. While training, the fliers are on call twenty-four hours a day with no days off. The radar station that alerts them for duty, located thirty miles to the north, phones them the warnings. It cannot be known whether they are alerted for training or the real thing, he said.

When the warning comes, a 11 ordinary business at the field stops. Pilots rush to their planes and are ready to take off in two and a half minutes at most. Jets, he said, do not require the warming up period of the propeller type planes. Jets, too, are the most simple to fly of all planes—any high school boy could fly them with little training.

Riaz, with Lieut. Farrel's assistance, demonstrated a hose outfit to keep up certain pressures on the body, to prevent blacking out completely. The speaker said blindness and deafness occurred often in partial black-outs but did no harm. He maintained that black-outs did not hurt and caused no injury, showing that pilots, while they might look like super-men, were not that at all.

THE SUIT AND jacket of fliers were demonstrated. The jacket with parachute attached, weighs 44 pounds and the fliers complete equipment, with helmet weighs 115 pounds. This equipment enables the wearer to withstand temperatures from 32 below zero to 70 degrees of heat, centigrade. A camera was shown that automatically operates with the firing of the plane's guns and indicated definitely when hits have been scored, or misses made.

Lieut. Riaz told modestly, of some of his combat experiences in Korea. He flew fighter bombers for close support to the infantry as well as interdiction operations. In the operations against targets he spoke of flying close to the Yalu where they could see the Communist planes warming up on the other side but were not allowed to attack these sitting ducks. He flew 100 combat missions over Korea.

The Rotary meeting was presided over by Vice-President George Finley. Secretary Robt. List introduced the one visiting Rotarian, Robt. Lammens of Hillsboro. Andrew Hutton introduced two guests, Leo Edwards, personnel director and Ed Vollette, superintendent, both from Armc. Dr. Wooldard had Lee Moch of Leesburg as his guest.

W. W. Montgomery had charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

UNION SUES COMPANY WILMINGTON — Local 768 of the CIO has asked $50,000 damages from the Randall Co. for damages allegedly suffered in a 17-week strike.

CITY GETS $290,000 SPRINGFIELD — Lewis Reid, 85, who died August 6, left the city of Springfield $290,000 for any purpose the city commission desires.

Final Returns Now Reported

PMA Chairman Tells Of Wheat Quota Vote

Final returns on the referendum on wheat marketing quotas for Fayette County, were reported Wednesday by Percy Kennell, chairman of the Fayette County Production and Marketing Administration Committee, following the canvass completed on the 53 challenged votes.

The result showed 416 votes in favor of the marketing quotas and 129 opposing. It was reported that 20 of the challenged votes were not counted because of some irregularity. Approximately 73.4 percent of the vote favored the quotas, in this county. A total of 66.7 percent was the figure set in the nation to insure operation of the quotas and acreage allotments.

Kennell also reported that warehouse wheat loans in Fayette County now totalled 576 which represents about three-fourths of all such loans expected by the PMA in the county. Farm storage loan applications number 75 at present.

It was also reported by the PMA chairman here that many farmers have been inquiring about rules governing wheat mixtures. He stated that information received this (Wednesday) morning by the Fayette County PMA office, will be of great interest to wheat farmers here in explanation of what wheat mixtures may be used in excess acreage.

The statement from PMA headquarters was as follows:

MIXTURES—Wheat seeded in a mixture will not be considered acreage of wheat, provided the mixture of wheat and other small grains (excluding flax, vetch and Austrian winter peas) contain, when seeded, less than 50 percent by weight of wheat, and when harvested, produces less than 50 percent of wheat by weight.

Arrests Driver Twice Within One Hour's Time

Patrolman R. R. Sheline arrested the same man twice within an hour, recently, both times on reckless operation charges.

The man was F. G. Meador, 26, Columbus, first picked up near Washington C. H.

An hour later Sheline was summoned to the scene of an accident near Leesburg. He found that the same man, Meador, had overturned his car in a bridge which had been the scene of a fatal accident three weeks ago.

Meador posted $30 bond in municipal court here on the first charge, and on the second charge drew $20 and costs before Major James Clyburn, in Greenfield.

The car driven by Meador was badly demolished after it struck the bridge and overturned.

John McClure, 41 Dies At Greenfield

John McClure, 41, died at 12:30 P. M. Tuesday at the Greenfield Municipal Hospital. He had been a patient there for several days.

Mr. McClure was born at Lees Creek. He resided on the Martinsburg Road, Leesburg, Route 2, and was a veteran of World War II.

The deceased was a member of the Lees Creek Congregational Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Helen; two daughters and one son, Mrs. Shirley Evans of Lees Creek, and Marcella and Waldo both at home; one granddaughter, Linda Sue Evans; four sisters, Mrs. Mary Rankin of Sabina, Mrs. Jessie Howard of Xenia, Mrs. Helen Hodson of Martinsville and Mrs. Pearl Fawcett of Sabina and two brothers, Donald McClure of Sabina and Jack McClure of Lees Creek.

This time, in addition to being charged with driving while drunk, Teets faces a charge of driving while his permit was suspended, also driving with insufficient brakes. He was locked up.

With him was his brother, George D. Teets, 22, Route 6, who made the mistake of interfering with the arrest of Robert Teets, and in addition to facing a charge of interfering with an officer also is charged with possessing obscene and lewd photographs. ## Drivers Facing Various Charges

Many Arrested Here Over Wednesday

The police docket was somewhat crowded with cases up for hearing Wednesday, and two drivers, charged with driving while drunk, were included in the list.
